LAW REPORT.

INDUSTRIAL ARBITRATION COURT.

(Before Mr. Justice Heydon.)

CABINETMAKERS.

An application was made by Brown and Jolly, of Lismore, for a variation of the award of the Furniture Trades Group, No. 1 (cabinetmakers, etc.) Board. Mr. D. G. Gidley had an information on behalf of the employees, that the applicant firm was registered as a factory under the Factories and Shops Act of 1912. He claimed that, as the whole State had been proclaimed a district under section 4 of the Act, any variation of the award was not admissible. His Honor dismissed the application, but without deciding the question whether the Arbitration Court had or had not power to regulate certain matters.

CLOTHES PRISERS.

Mr. Crombie applied, on behalf of the Pressers' Union of New South Wales and the Amalgamated Journeymen Tailors' Association of New South Wales for a variation of the constitution of the Clothing Trades Group, No. 5 Board (Pressers, the undershirts and vests). Mr. Cross of Messrs. Norton, Smith, and Co. appeared for the Master Tailors' Association of New South Wales.

Wincarnis will give you the New Health you need when you are

Weak, Anæmic, 'Nervy,' Run-down

Think what new health means to you who are Weak, or Anæmic, or 'Nervy,' or Run-down. Think how splendid it would be to be free from that burden of ill-health—to feel well—to eat well—to sleep well—to get up fresh and vigorous—and to feel your whole system pulsating with new life.

That is the health 'Wincarnis' offers you. And this is the reason: 'Wincarnis' possesses a four-fold power, because it is a Tonic, a Restorative, a Blood-maker, and a Nerve Food—all combined in one rich, delicious, life-giving beverage. This four-fold power, acting upon the system at one time, creates new strength, new blood, new nerve force, and new vitality. Thus the whole body is "toned-up" and invigorated—the blood supply is enriched and revitalized—the nervous system is stimulated and strengthened—and the vitality renewed and augmented. That is why 'Wincarnis' is recommended by over 10,000 Doctors.

WINGARNIS "The Wine of Life."

'Wincarnis' is not a luxury, but a positive necessity to you if you are Weak, Anæmic, 'Nervy,' Run-down—or a martyr to indigestion, indolence, or an invalid striving to regain strength after an exhausting illness. are very liable to catch cold. They have to go in all weathers—often having to sit in school with wet feet. Apart from this, they are always face to face with the risk from infection—especially when epidemics of Whooping Cough, Measles, Diphtheria, Influenza, etc., are about. Mothers of school boys and girls however can be always free of anxiety if they have a bottle of an unfailing remedy for nerves

Mr. W. H. Gray, member of the firm of Gray Bros.' Motor Works, 65 Church-st., Parramatta, writes 30/4/17, as follows:

"I wish to tell you that I have been taking your Clements Tonic, and thought you would be pleased to know it has had a splendid result.

"Before taking your medicine I was completely run down, and on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and was advised to have a good rest away from business. This I could not do, we were so busy, and my services could not be spared.

"A friend of mine advised me to try your medicine. I procured one of your large bottles, and was surprised to feel better after taking only half of its contents.

"I have taken altogether four large bottles, and to-day I can honestly say that I feel quite well again. Before taking your Tonic work was a drudgery to me; NOW IT IS A PLEASURE.

"You may use this letter as an absolutely unsolicited testimonial. I shall always be pleased to recommend Clements Tonic.

A PROFESSIONAL NURSE writes this Letter.

Nursing since 1865, Nurse L. Rothery, Burnley, Victoria, gives her personal opinion, thus:—
 "I have known Clements Tonic to work wonders. I personally proved the value of it after an attack of Bronchitis and Asthma. I have a very high opinion of your splendid medicine."

Get it from your chemist or store to-day and get well. Do not wait until to-morrow. It is the relief of weak nerves, loss of sleep, indigestion, anaemia, and nerve breakdown.

A 44-HOUR WEEK.

in the question of a 44-hour week come up in an item of news in our morning and evening columns this morning. A meeting of all unions attending the Building Trades Federation of employees has been convened to deal with the question of establishing the shorter aggregate of working hours; and ordinary citizen who is not a consumer is being given any consideration at all. We cannot discuss the 44-hour week peace condition; because the whole is at war. Nothing can be done again; but assume for the sake of argument that, after peace is proclaimed, Indian labour conditions will suffer change, but develop along lines of increasing demands and never-ceasing con-

Can unionists, with any conscience, expect to benefit now at the expense of community and of the Empire? The answer is a present fact, so ominous and so long to those living directly under its shadow that every attempt to increase the burden of existence becomes equivalent to active disloyalty. "But," it will be urged, "the suggestion is to make a man not to increase it." In reply we may only ask whether a 44-hour week means the same output for the building trades as at present? If it will not, are the building trades so flourishing, and the masters making such profits, that the answer may be given without an in-

of cost to those who are able to pay it. Will not an increased cost in the construction of buildings involve increased taxes? But apart from the economic aspect of the whole business is it patriotic for the unions to raise such an issue when their chief ally is laying heavier and still heavier burdens upon every back? Are we concentrating upon the war to help the Empire when one part of the community seems to be concerned only in concessions from another part to ease a world crisis makes the favorable opportunity? — May I be allowed, as a returned soldier, to express my sincere appreciation of the appeal now being made by Ada Redeon for funds to assist in keeping the London Anzac Bazaar going. I personally fully bear testimony to the enormous amount of good it does "and how" it is sought by the "boys" and "lads" and, as one who has been benefited by it would be, I earnestly desire to see it flourish. It had to be closed in 1914, I am sure this would be the desire of thousands of my comrades who have derived its benefits and the appeal made to the labourers to the appeal made to the unemployed lady (who is a veritable lady) mother was marvellous, and as a soldier from New South Wales I feel that the Mother State will be just as liberal in lending to help keep in existence for the disabled home away from home. RED CROSS WORK.

MELBOURNE, Tuesday.—Miss Helen Munro Ferguson presided at the 15th meeting of the central committee of the British Red Cross Society, held at Federal House yesterday. The meeting was attended by representatives of all the branches of the society in the district. At the request from the commanding officer of the 1st division, the council granted the necessary sanction to enable 250 of the members to take part in the competition of a scheme for establishing workshops, arrangements have been made for 25 married Australians, who were sent for artificial limbs, to undergo training in fitting and electrical engineering at the Brisbane workshops. Urgent calls for help from the society in France, and in the Balkans, were also discussed.

Medical units had been fully equipped since the outbreak of war. The communications equipment was reported as being heavier recently than at any time since the Gallipoli campaign. It was given for the provision and maintenance of a convalescent home in Egypt. Officer's picture exhibition in Sydney. The Red Cross funds. Paravane from the Red Cross equipment were sent from the medical officers in charge of recent batches of returned soldiers.

GALICIA

ENEMY'S OFFENSIVE

FURTHER ADVANCE

The official communiques refer to further successes attending the enemy counter-offensive in Galicia, owing to the disaffection of portion of the Russian troops. Following is the text of the communiques—

FEAR OF COUNTER REVOLUTION.

Local troops from the front continue to reach Petrograd. While some were detained at the Nicholas Station maxima were turned on them from neighbouring houses. The troops returned the fire.

The slowness of the executive committee of the Council of Workmen and Soldiers' Deputies in arresting the Leninists has been noted. The committee is in a difficult situation, as many of the soldiers are included among their members. The committee arrested the Leninists but they were acting in accordance with their conviction. The fear of a counter-revolution, however, is now changing the executive point of view.

It is becoming daily more apparent (says a Petrograd message) that German bribery played a great part in the revolt. When the occupants of the Fortresses of St. Peter and St. Paul yielded they were searched, and every man had at least 250.

STIRRING APPEAL.

The Petrograd Workmen and Soldiers' Deputies issued a stirring appeal to the soldiers to stand firm, and add: "The time has come for acting without hesitations. We have acknowledged the Provisional Government, with whom lies the fate of the revolution. We have acknowledged its unlimited authority and power. Those disobeying the Government's commands will be regarded as traitors and treated mercilessly." The proclamation concludes: "The revolution is a struggle for the life of the Fatherland."

GERMAN.

MONDAY, ISSUED 5.35 P.M.

A Russian attack south-west of Drinsk failed.

A Russian attack at Krevo penetrated our position. Our counter-attack drove out the enemy, except at two points.

Our counter-attack south of the Serch has developed. The Russians retreated into the Carpathians. We occupied the village immediately west of Tarnopol, and the village of Kobyshyn-Ostrow railway.

We have begun an outward movement across the Dniester. The Russians strongly resisted south of the railway.

Russian activity has increased along the ridge of the Carpathians. The enemy is heavily on the lower Serch indicates impending battles.

POSITION OF TARNOPOL.

The "Daily Chronicle" says the Germans have taken Tarnopol, which is the pathway to Kiev, the Ukrainian capital, the occupation of which would cut off the Russian and Russian armies south of the Dniester.

A message from Copenhagen says the Germans expect the Russians will defend Tarnopol, where they have concentrated their best troops. A great fire has broken out in the town.

PETROGRAD BLAMED

HIDDEN GERMAN HAND.

The Petrograd correspondent of the United Press Agency says—Petrograd is now full of evidence that the Germans financed the revolution. Several hundreds of workmen and soldiers have been arrested with their pockets bulging with money, which they received from Germans. Clever pickpockets were hired to steal passports. M. Kereny's energies stronger than ever since the revolution. His pockets have been searched by the Germans and the crew of every ship has pledged its loyalty to M. Kereny.

ABSENCE OF DISCIPLINE.

The Petrograd correspondent of the United Press Agency reports that the Workmen and Soldiers' Congress has passed a resolution granting the Provisional Government unlimited power to re-establish discipline in the army. The correspondent adds that the Government Executive Committee in the south-west reports that most of the units of the Russian army there are completely disorganized. Mutinous soldiers threaten to shoot at their officers. A fatal crisis has occurred in the moral of the troops. The offensive spirit has utterly disappeared.

The programme issued by the Government emphasises the need for the greatest effort to continue the war, and for safeguarding the revolution against anarchical and counter-revolutionary attacks.

Following the example of the machine gun regiments, other regiments have readily handed up their arms, but they are very depressed over their disbandment.

News from the provinces is good. M. Kereny has received from 15 provinces numerous addresses expressing confidence in his strong measures against the crisis. His staff has informed the Government commission of inquiry that he is placing himself at their disposal.

ANGRY POPULACE.

An effort to secure a balance between socialists and non-socialists failed. All the latter refused office. The Government is everywhere regarded as unsatisfactory, and a strong National Government is demanded. M. Kereny's own refusal office as Deputy Premier, forcing M. Tsereteli's agrarian party, Nationalists are securing Lord Dunsen's support.

DEFALTING ARMY CORPS.

The Petrograd correspondent of the "Morning Post" says that the revolution is threatened with defeat owing to the default of the army, which largely consists of conscripts drawn from Petrograd, which is the cancer spot of Russia. Under German pressure, with Germany money, it has been busy for months disintegrating the healthy cells of the Russian army.

The executive of the committee of the 11th Army has issued the following declaration: "The German attack began on the 19th, and has grown into an unprecedented disaster, threatening ruin to revolutionary Russia. The spirit of the troops has suffered a sudden and ruthless change. The impulse to attack has evaporated. The majority of the troops are in a condition of ever-spreading corruption. FRENCH LINES ATTACKED.

LONDON, July 24.

The communiques relating to the Western Front recount continued assaults on the French lines, counter-attacks repulsed, driving the enemy back. On the left, French front successful raids and aerial operations are reported.

FRENCH.

MONDAY, ISSUED 5.35 P.M.

The German attacks, accompanied by violent bombardments, were continued last night from the plateau before Cambrai to Casemates. After the finish of a series of extremely violent attempts the enemy succeeded in penetrating our first line, but our immediate vigorous counter-attack ejected him from all but a small portion of the line.

The attack on the plateau of the German front continued last night. Despite all his efforts the enemy has been unable to drive us off the plateau.

MONDAY, ISSUED AT MIDNIGHT.

The bombardment of our positions in the Hurbie-Cromme region continues most violent, especially on the plateau of Mont Corbillet. We have completely repulsed our batteries are most active against our positions in the Moronville region.

Long-range German guns fired 100 shells north of Nancy. There were no casualties. We made a reprisal by an effective fire on works at Chateau Salles.

MONDAY, ISSUED 5.35 P.M.

A successful local operation which we carried out south of Avion (below Lens) reached its objectives with little loss.

We raided and bombed enemy dugouts south of Havrincourt, and in the neighbourhood of Bulcourt and Hellebecq.

We repulsed raids at Lombardzyde and south-east of Loos.

TUESDAY, ISSUED 12.20 A.M.

Yesterday morning's raid southward of Avion penetrated the enemy's positions on a front of 900 yards to a depth of 300 yards, and inflicted heavy casualties and much damage.

We successfully raided a strongly-held farm eastward of Guesnieres, and repulsed an enemy attack north-westward of Clerby.

Aerial fighting took place all day long yesterday. The visibility was excellent. Our aeroplanes successfully co-operated with the artillery, and dropped three tons of bombs on aerodromes, ammunition dumps, and railway stations.

We brought down 14 machines, including a raid on England. Nine of ours are missing.

GERMAN.

MONDAY, ISSUED 1.25 P.M.

An artillery battle was waged all night in Flanders. Air squadrons successfully fought over our balloons. We brought down three aeroplanes.

The enemy made a vigorous night-attack between Avion and Mericourt. We repulsed the enemy's success. We attacked the northern slope of Winterdun and carried several lines of trenches on a front of a kilometre. We took 230 prisoners.

MONDAY, ISSUED 1.25 P.M.

The Paris correspondent of the "Daily Chronicle" writes: The battle on the three plateaus was continued throughout yesterday. Its intensity equalling those of the Somme and Meuse, it was a great success. The enemy's losses were unprecedented. There came waves of German and storming troops, with reckless daring. They were repeatedly driven back. Eventually they gained only part of the first line trenches on the northern edge of Cambrai. It is difficult to understand the enemy's efforts to regain the plateau. There is a great recrudescence of the "cliché," activity against Russia. There is also a multiplicity of his attacks on the West front which extend to the whole of the St. Mihiel region, as well as enterprises of lesser importance on the heights of the Meuse and in Upper Alsace. The enemy is striving to regain a number of observation points.

The "Daily Chronicle" regards this renewed activity as the outcome of Hindenburg's desire to impress upon political circles in Germany that the military situation is good.

WAR NOTES.

POSITION IN GALICIA.

While the situation in Eastern Galicia is still serious, and may result in the temporary confusion of the plans of the Russian high command, there would appear to be some justification for the statement of the "Morning Post" correspondent that affairs at the front are far from desperate. The Russian authorities are, no doubt, justified in making the position out to be as black as they possibly can. The Russian high command, however, leaves little doubt that the messages are intended to impress both soldiers and civilians with the seriousness of the situation and the necessity for unity of action.
